Lambros Y. Lambrou.

As one of the founding partners of McHugh & Lambrou LLP, Lambros Y. Lambrou obtained his first seven-figure verdict in a complex wrongful death medical malpractice case at the age of 28. Since then, his accomplishments have garnered him an impeccable reputation amongst his peers for handling and resolving complex and substantial medical malpractice and personal injury cases. His exemplary legal acumen and high standard of legal ethics have earned him the highest rating possible for an attorney, as determined by his peers and judges. Such a rating is indicative of pre-eminent legal skills and the highest standard of legal ethics amongst his fellow lawyers.

After his meteoric rise through the ranks of a large and prestigious law firm, where he was named a partner at age 30, he chose to abandon large firm politics and start his own firm. Mr. Lambrou founded McHugh & Lambrou LLP, along with Russell T. McHugh, with two promises to himself, his clients and his partner: no big firm politics and an utter concentration and dedication to the needs of the firm's clients. His caring attitude towards his clients and cases is reflected in the enormous amounts of time he spends on each case he agrees to accept. In fact, Mr. Lambrou and his partner pride themselves on their selectiveness and maintenance of a low attorney to client ratio. This is done to ensure that each client and case gets the attention they require. Mr. Lambrou and his firm's dedication to their clients is reflected in the millions of dollars they have recovered for them and the fact that their clients are their biggest source of new business. The second biggest source of referrals is other attorneys—colleagues in the business that entrust their cases and clients to Mr. Lambrou and his firm.

Most of Mr. Lambrou's cases are resolved before trial for maximum value; a testament to his complete and thorough defeat of his opponents in the pre-trial process. However, when a matter must proceed to trial, the firm is on the cutting edge of trial preparation, often employing nationally recognized trial consultants to prepare their cases and their clients for trial. Mr. Lambrou proudly states, "Neither my firm, nor I, have taken a single case to trial until we have walked awhile in our client's shoes. Before I take any client to court, I have seen their kitchen table a lot—it's where we spend hours preparing for the biggest day of their lives. I am proud that our clients pay us the highest compliment by recommending us to their friends and family. In fact, it makes us feel like we are part of their family."
